What it is · what it costs

Embroidery digitizing

Digitizing is the one-time process of converting your artwork into stitchable thread art. Required the first time we embroider a design at a given size.

The short version

- Digitizing turns flat graphics into stitch instructions for our embroidery machines.
- It's a one-time charge per size. Embroider the same logo at chest size 10 times ' you pay digitizing once.
- Different size = a new digitizing file. Chest, full back, and hat each need their own.
